Four Burglars Discovered At Smithfield But Escape In Powerful Automobile

(By Associated Press)

Smithfield, Ky., Feb. 27—Yeggmen who blew the safe in the Smithfield Bank early today, escaped with $300 in cash and approximately $700 Liberty bonds. The robbers were surprised at their work by Cashier O. D. Van Cleave and Richard Watkins, who were armed with shotguns. They opened fire on the four yeggmen who fled in high-powered automobiles.

Ohio Gang Believed At Work

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Feb. 27—The robbery of the bank at Smithfield makes the eighth Kentucky country bank entered by yeggmen within the last two months. The list includes banks at Jeffersonville, Crab Orchard, White Plains, Burgin, Shepherdsville, Taylorsville and Adairville, to say nothing of four safe robberies in Louisville. Postoffice Inspector W. E. Greenway believes the robberies are due to a gang working out of Toledo, making night trips to Kentucky in high powered automobiles. Detectives here today are combing the city for the yeggmen who are believed to have temporary headquarters in Louisville.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 27—The reply of the British and French premiers on the Adriatic question was received today. No intimation was given as to the nature of the reply which was drafted within 24 hours after receiving the President's note, in which he adhered to his former position that unless the Adriatic settlement of December 9th was restored in principle he would have to consider withdrawing the peace treaty and the Franco-American alliance from the senate.

Judge Carroll to Retire

Considerable interest is being aroused in the next election of a judge of the Court of Appeals in this district, caused by the announcement that Judge John D. Carroll, of Henry county, will retire at that time and not be a candidate to succeed himself. It is understood that he plans to take up the practice of law in Louisville. Judge Carroll has already served two terms on the appellate bench with honor and distinction. Reports have it that Judge Rogers Clay, of Lexington, and Judge Robert L. Stout, of Woodford county, may be the leading aspirants for the vacancy. The former has been serving as Commissioner of the court for a number of years. Judge Stout is one of the best known circuit judges in the state.

NO INDICTMENTS IN LEXINGTON MOB CASES

Lexington, Ky., February 26.—The special Fayette County Grand Jury impaneled to investigate the rioting here February 9, which resulted in the death of six persons, reported Thursday declining to return indictments on the ground that it "would only aggravate the present situation."

The report stated that information obtained from witnesses would have warranted returning several indictments. Testimony was brought out, the report said, that speeches had been made to incite the mob to violence, and that persons were identified by the jury as being at the scene to promote violence.

The jury expressed its sympathy for the families of the persons who were killed in the rioting, and it also praised the authorities for upholding the law, and pleaded for obedience to the statutes in future. The rioting will stand as a "calming influence" for years to come, without legal action, the grand jury reported.

LANCASTER

The Woman's Club met Thursday afternoon at their rooms on Lexington avenue. There was a very good attendance and a most interesting program rendered. Mrs. Ed Gaines was the leader assisted by Mrs. W. B. Burton.

The banquet given by the Tobacco Board Trade, composed of the tobacco buyers of the city, to the board and officers of the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse was a most delightful affair.

Plates were laid for about fifty guests and every seat was occupied. The decorations used were samples of some of Garrard's choice tobacco. Mr. J. E. Robinson was the toast master and a number of short talks were given by both host and guests. After the dinner the tobacco used in the decorations was sold and the bidding was fast and furious, and about $150 was realized in the manner, one hand being sold for $22.00.

Nettie Overly, the little seven weeks old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Casey, died very suddenly Thursday morning. Burial took place in the M. E. Church yard at Gunn's Chapel. The sudden death of Mrs. Alice Moore Montgomery which occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore came as a shock to all her friends and relatives. She leaves a baby only four weeks old. She was just 24 years old and a member of the Christian church. Funeral services were conducted at the home after which interment took place in the Lancaster cemetery.

Mrs. Katherine North Marsee died Thursday evening at her home in Marksburg. ## DAVID PARKE PASSES AWAY OF PNEUMONIA

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 27—An agreed decree, under which the "Big Five" packers are forever enjoined from engaging in any line of business other than handling meat and produce, was filed today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. It was submitted by Attorney General Palmer, who said it "removes the menace of control of unrelated industries by the Big Five and confines their activities in the future to distribution of meat and by products."

Counsel for the packers in a statement to the court said the packers agreed to the decree, not because they were guilty of violating any law but to assure the American people that there is not the remotest possibility of a food monopoly by the packers.

John Miller, railroad section man who cut his wife and her uncle, James Noland, an aged man, with a knife a few days ago, was tried before Judge Price in county court Friday morning and held to the grand jury under $100 bond on a malicious cutting charge. Miller testified that Noland was too friendly with his wife, and that he "got the goods." Noland said he is the woman's uncle and had simply stopped by the house when she asked him to do her a favor. The woman, who was badly cut in the side, was unable to leave the hospital to attend court.

Raymond Munday, colored, on a statutory charge preferred by a girl under 16 years of age, was also held to the grand jury under $100 bond.

Palmer To Investigate
(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 27—Attorney General Palmer today ordered an investigation of the situation in Kentucky, which resulted in the resignation of the Fair Price Commission there and refusal of its members to serve in a campaign to reduce the high cost of living. He called for all papers in the case and announced he would personally supervise the investigation in the hope of bringing about an amicable settlement.

WHISKY MYSTERY STANDS

Kentucky Legislators Unable To Trace Missing Cases

Louisville, Ky., February 26—The House Investigating Committee has returned from Henderson, after having visited the home of Miss Minnie Mahler, Secretary to Senator A. O. Stanley in an effort to determine disposition of eight cases of whisky mysteriously missing from Kentucky Reformatory. J. L. Richardson, Chairman, and other members of the committee, said that 47 bottles of whisky of a brand that had been purchased by T. M. Phythian for the Reformatory were at the former secretary's home, but that the cases bearing the serial number had been destroyed.

Miss Mahler and her mother, they said, admitted having received the liquor and having paid Phythian for it. They said the liquor was for the Senator who desired to take it to Washington. The committee was unable to establish whether or not this whisky was the same as that purchased for the Reformatory.

The committee said that in Ohio county they had obtained the affidavit of John W. Reynolds, a farmer, who had asserted that he paid $100 to an employee of the State Tax Commission in connection with a pardon obtained for his son and that the facts in this incident were being investigated.

DIXIE DRY CLEANERY TO BE OPEN MONDAY

On Monday, March 1st, the new Dixie Dry Cleanery will be formally opened to the public for business. This is the most modern and up-to-date cleaning establishment which Mr. George Goodloe has promised to the people of our growing little city, and which the most minute inspection of experts have pronounced "perfect" in every detail of plan and equipment. It is understood that not quite all the machinery has arrived yet but the management says that there is no known reason why they will not be ready to receive work by the above date.

This building and cleaning plant is a great credit to Richmond and expresses the long felt need for such a business located in our city. The promoter has invested a large sum of money in his ideal of a cleaning plant and those interested in the up-keeping of the town all hope that his dream of a successful business will be realized. They said the liquor was for the Senator who desired to take it to Washington. The committee was unable to establish whether or not this whisky was the same as that purchased for the Reformatory.

The bill before the Senate is substantially the same measure as that passed by the House. It provides that the Governor shall appoint a State Highway Commission of four dominant political parties in the state.

A Last Farewell

To us the death at Lexington of Col. Walton comes in the nature of a personal bereavement. To him we owe the fact that we are in the newspaper business today; at his feet, as a youth just out of high school, we learned the lessons of country journalism that are now so great a part of our life. From him we largely obtained inspiration and conviction of the righteousness of Democracy in politics and more than all we learned from his guiding and indomitable spirit, the lesson of hard work and what it will accomplish.

For nine years we "worked for" him from the time he took us and giving us a soapbox to stand upon taught us the "boxes" of a type case, until we left his employ as managing editor of one of his papers to enter business for ourselves. We came to know him intimately, to revere him almost as a father to one from whom the watch care of such a parent had been taken when almost an infant. And it was more as father that he gave us the foundation for our business career than as mere employer.

The request was based on the ground that Mr. Kendrick is a candidate for Congress. Callahan "called" Figg good and proper, as he well deserved.

Immunity to Hog Cholera Lasting

A series of recent experiments on duration of immunity to hog cholera following simultaneous inoculation of young pigs supports the conclusion that the protection is lasting. The investigations were conducted at Ames, Iowa, by specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Altogether 171 pigs, inoculated when a week to six weeks old and exposed to hog cholera, at times varying from 5 months to 9 months and 26 days later, were found without exception to be immune to that disease.

Three of the pigs however did during the period of exposure from causes other than hog cholera.

There was no apparent ill-effect from the simultaneous inoculation in any of the pigs.

There was no difference in the immunity of pigs from immune and non-immune sows.

Pigs that were approximately one week old received 10 cubic centimeters of anti hog cholera serum and  $\frac{1}{2}$  c. c. of virus. Pigs that were three weeks old or more received from 15 to 20 c. c. of serum and from  $\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. c. of virus.

Immunity was tested by injecting 5 c. c. of virus into the animals when they had an attack weight exceeding, in many cases, 200 pounds. None of the hogs contracted cholera. The experiments appear to disprove assertions by some observers that simultaneous inoculation of young pigs is not lasting and that immunity disappears at stages of growth variously placed from weaning time up to 50 or 60 pounds in weight.

LEXINGTON MAN HAS CONFIDENCE IN VOLA-TONIC

Believes It Will Bring Energy And Strength To Any Weak Person

"I believe Vola-Tonic to be a great 'Builder of Strength' and think it will give new life and energy to weakened, run down people because I know it did to me," said A. K. Alcock, 572 North Limestone street, Lexington.

"For four or five years my system has been all run down and I seemed to be getting worse instead of better.

"I was so nervous that I couldn't sleep well at night and I got up in the morning feeling as tired and worn out as I did when I went to bed.

"My stomach was out of order also and didn't digest my food properly. I suffered from constipation, too.

"Vola-Tonic was recommended to me and after taking the first bottle I saw a big improvement. I started getting back my strength and energy.

"Now, I can see much improved that I believe Vola-Tonic will bring back new life and strength to most weakened people."

Vola-Tonic, "Builder of Strength," brings the weakened, run down man or woman a good appetite and good digestion and helps the stomach take strengthening nutrition from food to nourish and build up broken down tissues and ailing organs of the body. Vola-Tonic also soothes the nerves and brings sound, restful sleep every night. As a result full normal strength and health soon come to the weakened, run down man or woman.

Vola-Tonic is being specially introduced in Richmond at the Richmond Drug Company. It

Cottonseed Meal for Work Stock

One pound of cottonseed meal per day for each 1,000 pounds live weight is the most satisfactory quantity to feed work animals, according to recent experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture. A test in feeding cottonseed meal to work horses and mules at the Government farm, Beltsville, Md., was begun in 1918, and continued last year. When the meal was fed in large quantities harmful effects were apparent, however, indicating that cottonseed meal, like any other high-protein feed must be fed with care to horses and mules.

Compensation in Age.

It is true that a poet wrote a famous hymn, "I Would Not Live Always," yet people are interested in living as long as they can, as that is one of the great laws of nature. Even advanced age bringing dim sight, loss of hearing and general decline, is not without its compensations, and Longfellow proved that "age is opportunity no less than youth."

Why Horse Chestnut?
It is said that the name horse chestnut was derived from the fact that when the leaves of the tree fall there is a scar left on the twig in the shape of a horseshoe, that bears marks resembling the nails of a shoe.

COUNTS HEALTH AS PRICELESS AFTER RELIEF

"I'm Feeling As Good Today As I Ever Did," Says Mr. Spalding Gratefully

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 26—"If I had the last bottle of Trutona in the world $1000 wouldn't buy it," is the remarkable statement made by Mr. Peter Spalding of 3004 West Walnut street, not long ago. Mr. Spalding is one of the many people who believe there are lots of things in this world that money can't buy and that good health is one of them.

"For some time I had been suffering from chills and kidney trouble," Mr. Spalding's story runs. "My kidneys simply would not act regularly and I suffered considerably from backache. I think that I had a slight rheumatic trouble too, because my knees would get stiff and hurt me in damp weather.

"The other night I came home with the hardest chill I ever had in my life, and the worst one that I ever saw anybody suffer. I thought sure I was a 'goner.' Well, my wife had been taking Trutona and as first aid she gave me a dose of it, then put me to bed and covered me up. You may not believe it but in two hours I was up and walking around. Since then I have been taking Trutona regularly and my kidneys are acting properly now. I'm feeling as good today as I ever did."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Richmond at the Richmond Drug Company.

During the absence of the family of D. S. Smith of Irvine, the house caught fire from unknown cause and was destroyed, all household possessions and clothing being lost.

At Madisonville Mayor D. W. Gatlin, Judge C. G. Franklin, Councilman E. P. Clayton and Police Chief W. E. Ashby were participant in a raid on a night crap game, promising sensational outcome, but resulting only in the arrest of two negroes.

Shelbyville has a bad flu epidemic. In addition to the ban on church services, lodges meetings and public gatherings, generally, restrictions limit to 10 the number of persons who may be in a store at one time.

IN OLD KENTUCKY

When W. J. Nesbit and wife of Webster county, closed up their home and left for Florida, they forgot to shut off the water. A small stream was seen flowing from a doorway and examination revealed that a frozen pipe on the second floor had burst, heavy damages resulting.

Jim Green, bandit, who beat into insensibility and robbed Hude Smith, also known as a merchant of Salvisa, who believed a story of distress and let him sleep in his home, was taken to Frankfort to serve four years.

Blood poisoning from an infected toe was the cause of the death of Walter Scott Harkins, 62, a leading lawyer of eastern Kentucky, who was buried at Prestonsburg Friday.

A raid on Will Allen's home under the lodge room of the colored Elks at Winchester brought to light three and a half gallons of whisky and 35 dozen bottles of beer. His trial is set for next Monday.

Burglars ransacked three offices in the court house at Catlettsburg, scattering papers over floors. Handcuffs in the sheriff's office were scorned but a revolver, belonging to Levi Arthur, circuit clerk, was carried away.

Would You Lose If Your Property Burned Today?

The destruction of that $5,000 home you built a few years ago would lose to you the original cost, plus another $5,000. For it costs $10,000 now to build the $5,000 home of 1914.

Likewise the loss of today of the business property that cost $50,000 before Germany went mad, would be $100,000—probably $100,000 would not replace it.

LIBERTY BONDS NOW SELLING
BELOW PAR, BUT INTEREST IS ABSOLUTELY SURE.

WILL APPRECIATE IN VALUE

Vendors of Oil Stocks and Others of Questionable Value Will Always Take Liberty Bonds at Par.

"It is rather disappointing to a man who gave up a couple of dollars out of his pay every week for a year to find that he had lost six or seven dollars on his Liberty Bond."

"So spoke a small subscriber to one of the Government war loans. He and his family had decided that they want ed some new parlor furniture. The bond was taken from its hiding place for a shopping expedition. Then it was discovered that the bond was not exchangeable for its face value and that furniture was a good deal higher than it used to be, says "Uncle Dudley" in the Boston Globe."

"What does that mean?"

"If such a transaction were concluded it would mean two things—a loss in selling the best security in the world when it is below par, and another loss in buying a luxury at the top of the market."

"A still greater loss is possible by exchanging a United States bond, even at par—offered by an accommodating oil-stock salesman—for a nice 25 per cent proposition which drops a little day by day until it finally falls clear through the floor, leaving the beautifully printed stock certificates for purely ornamental purposes."

"Liberty Bonds just now are the worst things in the world to sell.
They are the very best investments to hang on to."

"To those whose first serious attention to securities was given in war time, when the four-minute man stood up in the moving picture theater or in the shop and appealed to patriots to put their savings behind the boys over there, the fluctuations of Government securities are disturbing. But the explanation is simple."

"Another class of bond sellers is the big stock operators who have made cleanup in the market during the last eleven months. Stock profits are subject to taxation. Losses on Liberty Bonds sold under par before the first of the year make the tax on these profits smaller or wipe it out entirely.
Many of those who sell in order to show their losses to the tax collector expect to buy back again in January."

"Another class of libert. Bond sellers is made up of the little fellows.
Perhaps their trouble has been the high cost of living. A bond sacrificed has helped to bridge the gap between rising prices and a stationary income.
There are also those who sell because they have become infected with the modern fever of "blowing in" all the money they can get."

"Some persons who are trying to get Liberty Bonds away from the little fellows are telling them that Europe owes the United States about $10,000, 000,000 and that no interest has yet been paid on the loan. But it is inconceivable that the great Allied Nations will or can repudiate their debts. Still, if they should never pay a dollar, the United States could charge off the entire debt and still meet every obligation.
Uncle Sam never has failed to pay, and when he pays, he always pays 100 cents on the dollar. In 1861 the United States sold bonds as low as 83, but the same securities had jumped to 118 three years after the war and to 124 in 1876."

"Stop to think that whenever a Liberty Bond is sold it is bought by someone who is as anxious to buy as the seller is to sell. Who is he?"

"Big investors seem to feel that Liberty Bonds are quite the finest buy in the present market. The United States Treasury thinks so, too, and has snapped up in a year more than $1, 000,000,000 of its own securities. The Treasurer of Massachusetts also has bought Liberty Bonds. These are real tips from the best sources."

"Nothing short of grim starvation should cause the average person to part with his Liberty Bonds. He could not do better today than to save $46 and with it buy another $50 bond. At that low price, the rate of interest is high, and the bond is certain to go up $4, with excellent prospects of increasing still more in value."

Clothes.

Sir Walter Scott tells us in "Ivanhoe," "men wore one thickness of clothes, whether of wool, leather, or velvet. The shirt was invented, but for a long time, was worn only by the nobility and gentry. Then followed the waistcoats, breeches, and then the trousers. The overcoat, which succeeded the medieval cloak, was rare until the seventeenth century.
The dates are not known."

AMAZING SUCCESS HAS BEEN ACHIEVED BY FAMOUS TANLAC

Tanlac, The Celebrated Medicine Which Has Been Accomplishing Remarkable Results In The United States And Canada, Will Now Be Sold In Richmond By Stockton &
Son—Remarkable Sales Record Of Sixteen Million Bottles Phenomenal And Unprecedented.

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results throughout the United States and Canada, and which has been having a phenomenal sale wherever it has been introduced, will now be sold in Richmond by Stockton & Son, the amazing success achieved by this medicine in only five years' time is not only phenomenal, but unprecedented.

The discovery of Tanlac, the beginning of its manufacture, the establishment of the large and modern laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, occupying more than 60,000 feet of floor space, reads more like fiction than facts from latter-day commercial history.

Sixteen Million Bottles Sold In Five Years

Although placed on the market but little more than five years ago, over sixteen million bottles have been sold, and its sales record probably has never been equalled in the history of the drug trade in America.

From coast to coast and from Gulf to the Great Lakes, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it and have pronounced it the greatest medicine of all time. No matter where you go throughout the United States, whether East, West, North or South, Tanlac is a household word and is now unquestionably the most widely talked of medicine in the world today.

Briefly, this is the record of the truly marvelous medicine which will now be placed within the reach of every one. In only a few weeks' time it will be placed on sale in practically every large city, town, village and hamlet throughout the entire section.

Nashville, Tenn. Our books show that we have bought and disposed of over fifteen carloads of Tanlac (180,000 bottles), in this immediate territory, setting a record as the largest sale by us in a given time of any proprietary medicine in the history of our business.

These sales were made with no effort on our part and without a single complaint from any of our patrons or sub-agencies.

MAXWELL-CLARK DRUG CO.

Toronto, Ont., Can., Dec. 1, 1918. We have sold 146,328 bottles of Tanlac since accepting the agency.

This shows an average of eight thousand bottles per month.

EX-SPEAKER CHAMP CLARK
STUDENT OF TRANSLYVANIA

MANY WORKING
WAY IN COLLEGE

Seventy-five Per Cent of the Students of Transylvania Depend on Own Efforts for Education.

Lexington, Ky.—During the past session one hundred Transylvania College students earned all their expenses and 425 a part of their expenses. About 75 per cent of the students body, including women as well as men, are dependent upon their own efforts in securing an education. The total amount earned by these students last session was above $50,000. Students earning their way entirely or in part, suffer no social disadvantages, member of the faculty said, and the scholarship compares favorably with that of the students whose expenses are provided for them.

Of the 316 students of Transylvania during the past session, 236 were from Kentucky and 51 from Fayette County. The remainder were distributed over 21 states and 30 counties of Kentucky. Fifty-two were local, 90 came from within a radius of 50 miles of Lexington, 50 came from between 50 and 100 miles of Lexington, and 115 from over 100 miles from Lexington. The College of the Bible catalogue reports 124 students and Hamilton College 18.

A significant fact was revealed by recent religious census of the students body of Transylvania College. Out of a total enrollment of 316, there were 12 Baptists, 1 Lutheran, 38 Methodists, 12 Presbyterians, 6 Episcopalians, Roman Catholics, 236 Disciples of Christ, and only 5 without church membership.

ELECTRICITY FOR EVERY FARM HOME

Over 100,000 Delco Plants Now
In Use And Proving A Wonderful Benefit

An advertisement, published recently by the Delco-Light Company, of Dayton, Ohio, announces that there are over 100,000 Delco-Light electric light and power plants in service on American farms. To those who have watched the progress of agricultural improvement and advancement in this country this announcement gives cause for thought as to the future of electric service for the farm.

Let us go back for a minute and look at another mechanical product of rather recent origin, but in almost universal use today on the farm as well as in the city.

In September, 1902, the town of Lebanon, Ohio, held its first Centennial Celebration. There were at that time two residents of the village who owned automobiles, wheezy and asthmatic affairs of the "one-lung" type, resembling made-over buggies in appearance. Occasionally they could be persuaded to run for a short distance, but most of the time they were "stalled" in the barn or on the streets, and their owners were stretched on their backs underneath, tinkering with the insides.

Now one of the features of the Centennial Celebration was a street parade consisting of many horse-drawn floats and other vehicles. And it is a matter of record that His Honor, the Mayor, issued an order on that day that the town's two automobiles be parked "in the parade."

What a change 18 years have made! The horse of today, what is left of him, casts an indifferent eye on cars of all sizes and kinds, whizzing by him at all speeds. And the automobile is the universal means of transportation for both city and country.

Three things are responsible for this universal usage. They are, first, the sound sense of the self-propelled vehicle idea; second, awakened public interest in that idea; and third, the tremendous improvement in the design and construction of the modern automobile, as compared with that of 1902.

The history of the automobile suggests a prophecy for the future of electric service on the farm. And indeed today we find that prophecy well on its way toward fulfillment.

The first farm electric plant was installed some 30 years ago and there seems to have been little progress during early years toward improvement along mechanical lines. Like the first automobile it had a great many mechanical faults. Furthermore, little if any effort was made toward stimulating interest in the idea of electric service for the farm. The natural result was that despite the fundamental soundness of the idea, only 12,000 plants had been installed on farms in this country up to four years ago.

Then suddenly a change took place.

The Dayton Engineering Laboratories Company, of Dayton, Ohio, known all through the automobile world as makers of "Delco" starting, lighting and ignition equipment, announced that it would market a farm electric plant designed and built along new lines.

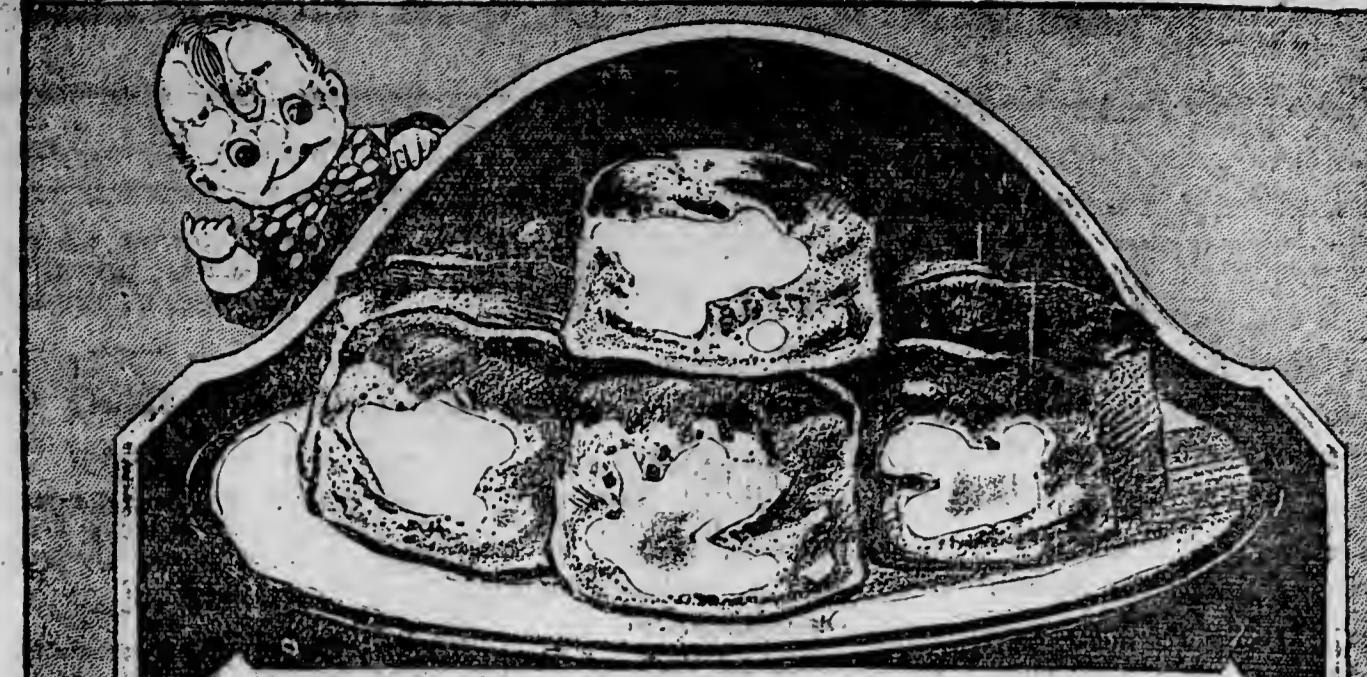

The experience of this company in building electrical apparatus for automobiles was doubtless of invaluable assistance in the early engineering work and probably helped them to produce a plant which was successful from the first: A new concern, now known as the Delco-Light Company and also located at Dayton, was organized for manufacturing and selling work. The product was produced under the name "Delco-Light."

The Delco-Light Company and other manufacturers have placed about 150,000 plants in service during the last four years, a record which establishes beyond question the soundness of the idea of farm electric service. A great amount of educational work has been done, not only for electric plant manufacturers but by agricultural colleges and other educational institutions as well. And there has been constant and sincere effort on the part of the manufacturers to improve their products. The plants produced today are well made and are reliable in operation. They can be counted on to deliver continuous and satisfactory service.

All this means just one thing—that the next few years will see the farm electric plant as common a thing as the automobile—will see the vast majority of farms in this country enjoying the same kind of dependable electric service as we find in the city.

It's a long cry from the Centennial Celebration in Lebanon, Ohio, to "electricity for every farm," and the average citizen of that day probably dreamed neither of the automobile as a real means of transportation nor of the even remote possibility of electric light and power for the farm. Yet today finds one of these dreams realized and the other rapidly dawning: 49-11

If you get the influenza, see a doctor at once—but why get it? Isn't it worth while, instead, to take every precaution now, against getting it?

Probably, the best and first thing to do is to make sure you are in good physical condition.

During an epidemic, almost wherever you go you are exposed to influenza.

As long as you are really well, the red corpuscles of your blood fight off and defeat disease germs. But when you are tired and run down, when you feel all right except that you haven't much energy or enthusiasm, your blood is tired out too, and you are an easy victim.

Pepto-Mangan has become famous as a builder of rich vigorous blood.

It helps you up when you are run down.

It helps you avoid illness.

Or, it helps you recover, if you realized your poor physical condition too late.

FARMER'S INCOME SUBJECT TO TAX

Gains for 1919 Must Be Figured Under U. S. Law—Returns Due March 15.

LAND SALE PROFITS TAXABLE

Necessary Farm Expenses May Be Deducted—Special Form for Farm Income—Cash or Accrual Basis for Computing.

A farmer, shopkeeper, or tradesman must figure up his net income for 1919; and if the farm or business income plus his other income was sufficient to require an income tax return a complete return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue by March 15. A farmer should ascertain the gross income of his farm by computing all gains derived from the sale or exchange of his products, whether produced on the farm or purchased and resold.

Farm Expenses.

From his gross income a farmer is allowed to charge off all of his necessary expenses in the conduct of the farm during the year. These include costs of planting, cultivating, harvesting, and marketing. In addition to these costs he may deduct money spent for ordinary farm tools of short life bought during the year, such as shovels, rakes, etc. Also, the cost of feed purchased for his live stock may be treated as an expense in so far as this cost represents actual outlay, but the value of his own products fed to animals is not a deductible item.

Other farm expenses allowable are the cost of minor repairs on buildings (but not the dwelling house), on fences, wagons and farm machinery; also bills paid for horseshoeing, stock powders, rock salt, services of veterinary, insurance (except on dwelling house), gasoline for operating power and sundry other expenses which were paid for in cash.

As to hired help, all the productive labor is a deductible expense; but the wages of household servants, or help hired to improve the farm, as in tree planting, ditching, etc., cannot be claimed against earnings. A farmer is not allowed to claim a salary for himself or members of his family while working on the farm.

Wear and Tear.

Purchase of farm machinery, wagons, work animals, etc., also the cost of construction or extension of buildings, silos, fencing, etc., should be considered additional investments in the farm and are not proper deductions against income.

A reasonable allowance may be claimed for wear and tear on farm buildings, (except the farmhouse), fences, machinery, work animals, wagons, tanks, windmills and other farm equipment which is used in the conduct of the farm.

As to autos and tractors, the cost of these is not an expense, although the cost of their upkeep is an allowable deduction, if the machines are used exclusively for farm purposes and not for pleasure. Also, in such cases, a deduction for wear and tear is allowed.

Farm Losses.

The loss of a growing crop is not a proper deduction from income, inasmuch as the value of the crop had not been taken into gross income. The loss of a building or of machinery through storm, lightning, flood, etc., is an allowable deduction, but care should be used to ascertain the correct loss sustained, as restricted by income tax regulations.

No deduction is allowed in the case of loss of animals raised on the farm, but a loss is deductible from gross income if the animals had been purchased for draft or breeding purposes.

Shrinkage in weight or value of farm products held for favorable market prices cannot be deducted as a loss, for the reason that when such products are sold the shrinkage will be reflected in the selling price.

Sale of Farms and Land.

The value of agricultural lands has been jumping during the past few years, and during 1919 many owners sold out part or all of their lands at big profits. All such gains constitute income and must be taken into the net income for the year.

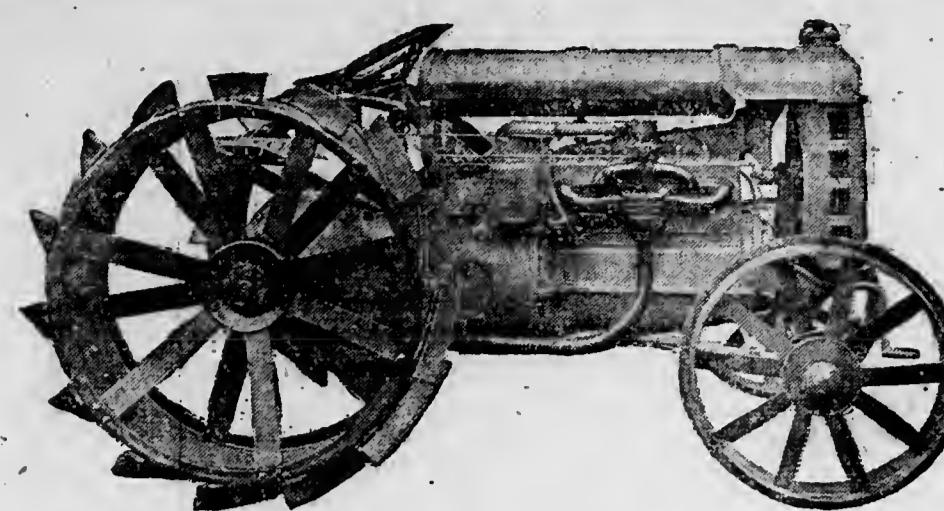

Any person who sold part of a farm or ranch, or part of a parcel of land, must also show any gains realized by the sale.

The method of figuring gains and losses on such transactions is prescribed in the Income Tax regulations, copies of which may be secured from Internal Revenue Collectors.

Forms for Returns.

The Internal Revenue Bureau has issued an improved Form 1040F for the use of farmers. This form, together with Form 1040A or 1040, will give the farmer explicit information as to how to properly figure his net income for 1919.

There are two methods of figuring a farmer's income tax return this year. He may make his return on the basis of the difference between the money and goods received for his products and the cash paid out for actual allowable farm expenses within the year. Or he may make his return on the accrual basis, which means computing the receipts and expenses that pertain to the taxable year, excluding income earned and expenses incurred in previous or succeeding years.

The Fordson Service Pledge

We realize that satisfactory, economical tractor operation depends on two factors. First, the strength, durability and economy of the tractor itself. Second, on being able to immediately secure parts and service work when occasion requires so that the tractor may be kept in operation every working day in the year.

We believe it is just as much the duty of every Fordson distributor to keep parts and service instantly available wherever a Fordson is sold as it is for the Fordson Company to put good materials and workmanship into the tractor itself.

We want to make the pledge to every Fordson buyer that we will, by keeping complete stocks of parts and expert mechanics close at hand, help him in every way possible to get the best work and the most work of his tractor and to avoid delays and lost time.

Fordson durable, dependable quality backed by such service as this is an unbeatable combination.

About Diamonds.
Only about 50 per cent of rough diamonds are cut into gems and lose about 60 per cent of their weight in being cut and polished. Diamonds are practically indestructible and the first diamond ever mined may possibly still be in existence. But estimate allows for the loss of at least 1,000,000 carats by flood, fire, shipwreck and other disasters. These reductions and losses leave the total of cut and polished diamonds at 46,355,474 carats.
